Pickard, Fostoria To Combine Selling Force

Formation of an inter-company financial and selling association, with both firms remaining independent, has been announced by the Pickard, Inc., of Antioch, manufacturers of fine china and Fostoria Glass Co., of Mounts-ville, W. Va.

The association will begin as of Jan. 1.

Fostoria Glass is the largest manufacturer of fine domestic crystal in the nation and also produces pressed glass.

According to Henry Pickard, Inc., the agreement between the two firms is unique to the in- dustry and perhaps any industry.

Pickard said there will be, and exchange of minority interests with both firms remaining inde- pendent, formation of a joint sales organization. Coordinated advertising will also be worked out to feature the products of both firms in the same advertisements.

The Fostoria firm employs a- bout 500 persons and Pickard at the present time has a work force of about 70.

"The agreement offers us the possibility of acquiring a very strong national sales force," Pic- kard said. "Fostoria is well es- tablished in major department stores across the country, some of which we are not yet in."

"The combining of the sales forces should give a tremendous impetus to sales."

He also said that there was a possibility of new styling being worked out but that would be in the future and is indefinite at this time.

He said there would be an ex- change of stock of equivalent value between the two firms.

Shute Named To New Post At Ampex

William G. Shute of Antioch, has been named sales manager of Chicago branch of the Ampex Corporation educational and in- dustrial products division, it was announced by Charles S. Dolk, marketing manager.

Shute, who joined Ampex in April, 1969, as a sales representa- tive, was formerly with Radi- com, Inc. In his new position, Shute will be responsible for sales of the Ampex line of closed cir- cuit color and monochrome video- tape recorders and players, cam- eras and accessories in the Chi- cago area.

Shute will work from the di- vision's headquarters in Elk Grove Village.

Legislature Can Hold Off Change

Unless the governor of legisla- ture intervenes to forestall it, 1970 will be the last full year of county government as we know it in Lake County.

Following mandatory re-organi- zation in 1971, the visible changes will go unnoticed. We will contin- ue to have the same services, road programs, public health, re- cording of vital statistics, collec- tion and disbursement of taxes, etc., but a different body, disas- sociated from township govern- ment, will be calling the plays from the top.

Counties in Illinois under the township system, such as Lake County, must redistrict by July 1, 1971. What this means is that township supervisors and assis- tants will no longer make up the county board of supervisors, which is the governing body.

Elections to be held in the fall of 1971 will determine the new composition of the county board. Whether the candidates are elect- ed from districts or at-large depends upon the success of reap- portionment. The number and size of the county board districts in Lake County is yet to be de- cided.

The new law stipulates there be no less than five, nor more than 29 county board districts. Just how many Lake County will have is anyone's guess right now, but there will be at least eight fewer board members than there are at present.

A series of bills signed into law in late 1969 by Governor Richard Ogilvie calls for compliance with the federal one-man, one-vote concept on the county level. Thus the mandatory redistricting a- long population lines rather than by township.

What will the new county gov- erning body of 1971 do about the committee system? per diem pay? The election of its chair- man? The answers to these, and other questions remain locked in- side the crystal ball.

Heart Attack Fatal To Leland Strang

Leland G. Strang, 87, of An- tioch died at 4:15 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 27, at his residence at 1013 Main St. of a heart attack.

He was born Jan. 14, 1882 in Lake Villa Township. The son of George E. & Emilie Hook Strang, pioneer-Lake County families.

He had resided in Waukegan, and Grayslake, before moving to Sutherland, Iowa in 1909.

He moved to Antioch in 1912 when he purchased the funeral business now known as Strang Funeral Home which he operated until his retirement in 1950.

The funeral home is now operated by his son Ed Strang.

Mr. Strang had been a member of Sequoit Masonic Lodge No. 827 A.F. & A.M. for over 50 yrs. He had been one of the organizers of the Antioch Fire Department. He married Elsie M. Schultz on May 16, 1911 at Sutherland, Iowa.

Survivors are his widow Elsie, three sons, Edmond R. of An- tioch, Howard G. of Arlington Heights, and Robert D. of Antioch, two daughters, Mrs. Helen (Xav- ier) Schimmel of Arlington Hts., and Mrs. Doris (Forest) West of

Happy New Year

Another New Year is upon us.

And with the coming of the new year we also must look back on the old and assess what we have accomplished.

Antioch has been blessed with many civic minded individuals and organizations and we wouldn't have the space to name them all.

And we fear that we would leave someone out inadvertently so we will just say thank you to all who have done the job for the community during the 1969.

And we will call again upon you to perform—perhaps harder—in the coming year so that our community may continue to prosper and grow.

We particularly want to give kudos, however, to those individuals and organizations that have so wholeheartedly supported our "Project Vietnam."

The boys who we have overseas write glowing letters of the gifts that the community has banded together to send them and the project has become a model nationwide.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Committee and many more have worked diligently to tell the Antioch story in an effort to bring new business to the community, something which we need.

So the New Year is about to begin.

And we can only sum it up by saying A Happy and Prosperous New Year to all of you from all of us.

Elderly Hard Hit

It seems to us that the government is unnecessarily taking its hardest poke at those who can least afford it—the Elderly Americans.

A recent announcement by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare to the effect that premiums paid by elderly Americans for supplementary medicare coverage will go up 32.5 per cent next July 1 is a case in point.

The percentage figure is misleading because the increase, dollar-wise, amounts to $1.30 a month.

But it seems to us that $1.30 more for medical coverage for those who are retired and living on small pensions is quite a wallop in the pocket-book.

Medicare now covers more than 19 million persons and consists of a voluntary medical insurance program and the government-financed basic hospital insurance.

The voluntary program is a supplement to the basic program in that it helps pay doctor bills and medical expenses in and out of the hospital that are not covered under the basic program.

We feel that the boost is uncalled for and it is now getting to the point where we can't even afford the government—what with tax piled on top of tax in every level.

In fact, with the cries of trying to stop inflation, we feel the boost—along with Theodore O. Cron, president of the American Patients Association—is inflationary itself and contradicts the government's efforts to hold down price increases.

Cron goes one step further and maintains that the boost demonstrates the program is "to be administered as a benefit primarily for physicians who wish to escalate their person income."

We are not analysts and so cannot comment on that.

But we do feel that the elderly, with fixed incomes and no hikes in sight, are being put upon by this increase.

Police Get New...

In the history of the Secretary of State's office any information of this kind has been available to enforcement agencies, Powell said. The initial mailing was completed Dec. 22.

New batches of microfiche cards will be sent to the agencies each month for the first six months of the year, replacing the earlier lists and containing up-to-date information, including transfers and recent registrations, Secretary Powell said. The second mailing will be made about Jan. 15, and should contain 1,500 listings, he added.

The microfiche system of listing motor vehicle registration information was begun with the 1969 registrations, and its development during this year made possible the early distribution of this information for 1970 registrations, Powell said.

The first listings for 1969 were forwarded in March, which was

McClory Calls For Quality Environment

Congressman Robert McClory (R-Lake Bluff) this week announced two actions intended to focus attention on the future condition of the American environment.

McClory was joined by over 50 other Members of the U.S. House of Representatives in introducing legislation designed to provide Federal funds to educate the public on the problems of environmental quality.

As the legislation was introduced, McClory declared:

"Americans today are awakening to the grave dangers both to our environment and to our lives resulting from our failure to develop intelligent environmental policies. An essential element in the shaping of such policies is an informed citizenry."

"The Environmental Quality Education Act can help us begin now to educate Americans, especially school children, about the entire range of problems that will determine the kind of environment we have in the future."

"Under our bill, Federal funds would be provided for developing programs for teaching about natural resources, conservation, pollution control and the need to maintain a balanced ecology—the proper relationship between man and nature."

"Today our elementary and secondary schools have very limited resources with which to teach environmental education. Our bill, by providing for curriculum development by colleges and universities, teacher training, pilot projects and support of environmental courses in schools and in local communities, can help fill this serious gap in our educational system."

Representative McClory additionally joined with a group of over 80 Members of Congress in a call for the designation of the 1970's as the "Environmental Decade." "The response of so many Members, including Representatives from both parties, is testimony to the growing awareness in Congress of the environmental crisis that confronts us today. We need to assign the highest priority—backed up with substantial funding—to the job of cleaning up our air, land and water in the coming decade," McClory stated.

He asked that Americans join him in a New Year's Resolution pledging:

"To work to identify and overcome all that degrades our earth, our skies, our water, and the living things therein, to the end that the Environmental Decade of the 1970's may see our environment immeasurably improved."

Nurses Gain During 1969

Illinois' registered nurses enjoyed unprecedented progress in the decade of the 1960's. Better pay and higher educational and nursing practice standards influenced improvements in patient care throughout the state, according to the Illinois Nurses' Association (INA).

Success of nurses in upgrading of economic security and satisfactions of service were highlights of the decade in nursing, according to Kathleen Radtke, R.N., associate administrator of the professional organization of 10,000 nurses in Illinois.

"Membership increased about 60 per cent since 1960, when the INA recommended $300 per month as the minimum salary for hospital nurses," Miss Radtke said. Today, the recommended monthly minimum is $700.

In 1969, there were virtually no nurses with service contracts at their respective hospitals. Today, more than 34 hospitals and health agencies have units of INA members who have organized to negotiate service agreements. With employment contracts, the nurse's lot is not only more profitable, but more secure.

Another nursing trend that will carry into the 1970's is upgrading of standards for the profession.

During the past 10 years, Illinois' R.N.'s undertook intensive programs in upgrading clinical knowledge for nurses in practice, enlarging the counseling and placement service that brings employers and nurses together, and strengthening the state laws that regulate their practice.

The Illinois Nursing Act was updated for the first time in a generation. The changes—directed at improved patient care through higher qualification standards for nurses—came about because the nurses themselves urged their representatives to vote for the improvements recommended by the R.N.'s professional organization.

"The role of the nurse is changing rapidly as medical technology, legal and social changes are causing a revolution in the health professions," said Mrs. Catherine Stokes, R.N., also on the INA staff. "In the 60's, nurses really became co-professionals with others in health fields, as R.N.'s sat on national and state commissions to make the decisions that define their work and responsibilities. The efforts or responsibility and professional stature will be the cause of some of nursing's most exciting developments in the 1970's," Mrs. Stokes said.

There are now 594 foreign institutions of higher learning in 50 countries offering at least one course approved for the enrollment of eligible veterans. England has 153 schools, Canada 90, Germany 51 and France 46.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT EXTRA SPECIAL

Fred and Penny Libert, formerly of Antioch, now of Fox River Grove, became the parents of a bouncing baby boy, Frederick Leroy IV, on Christmas Day. This reminds me of a certain Antioch resident with the same birthday but born some years back. Some children from the nearby Sunday School came to the door and asked if they could borrow the baby for their manger scene in the Christmas play.

MORE CHRISTMAS BIRTHDAYS

Belated Happy Birthday to Harold Gaston and Dick Burnette who each share the distinction of a Christmas Day double celebration.

MORE PROUD PARENTS

They are Mrs. Daniel Onofrey, 7754 Pamela Pl. Gurnee, Mrs. Ronald White, 1802 Carson Drive, Mrs. Joseph G. Slavik, 416 Cremona Ave., Mrs. David Kuiken, 1806 Genoa Ave., Mrs. Thomas F. Schroder, 63 Timber Lane, Lindenhurst, Mrs. Henry Baillitz, 1707 Buena Ave.

Carmel High Registration Date Is Set

Registration for the 1970 freshmen class at Carmel High School will take place on Saturday, Jan. 10th.

All eighth grade boys and girls who plan to attend Carmel next September must come to the school this Saturday morning to register and to take a series of ability and achievement tests. The tests results, along with information received from the student's grade school, will be used by Carmel in scheduling the student for next year.

The registration and testing will begin at Carmel at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday morning and will continue until about 12:30. No student can be admitted after 8:30, and no further testing date is planned for later in the year.

The student must bring a $5.00 testing and registration fee. Any student who plans to use the Ritzenthaler bus service for transportation to Carmel next year should also bring a $10.00 deposit made out to Ritzenthaler Bus Company.

Carmel High School for Boys and for Girls is located near the center of Lake County on Route 176 between Libertyville and Mundelein. It is a Catholic high school with a Boys' division and a Girls' division. The Girls' school is taught by the Sisters of Charity, B.V.M., and the Boys' school is taught by the Carmelite Fathers and both schools use a considerable number of lay men and women on the faculty.

Now in its 8th year of operation, the whole enrollment totals nearly 1600 from at least 49 communities within Lake County and in

Common Sense Is Essential In Driving

Jerry Klebe, director of the Lake County Safety Commission says, "Good vision, common sense, and courtesy are essential in accident prevention for winter driving."

Speaking on the weekly radio series "This Week In Lake County," Klebe said motorists should always make sure that glass in all car windows is free of ice and snow before starting off. He emphasized three other factors which contribute to soaring accident figures. They are: taking chances passing another vehicle on slippery highways; driving too closely; and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Director Klebe said, "Too many drivers are either oblivious to winter conditions, disregard the possibility of a mishap, or just overconfident. For instance, the normal interval on dry pavement is one car length for every 10 miles per hour. In winter, on snow-covered roads, the interval should be four times that figure, or 16 car lengths at 40 mph."

As for the major cause of motor vehicle accidents with resultant personal injuries and fatalities, Klebe says alcohol is the leading factor, except during holiday periods when speeding takes over the top spot. He urged that all residents who are planning a New Year's Eve celebration to consider making coffee that "last one for the road."

Our best wishes to Jack and Mary Lou Beyer on their third wedding anniversary, Dec. 31 is the 30th is the anniversary of Bob and Erna Lewis.

Hospital Patient

My mother, Ella Schrotland, fell last Tuesday. She has a compound fracture of the right ankle. Mrs. Joanne Plouvez saw her. Our deepest gratitude for all her assistance. The Rescue Squad was wonderful. Mother is in room 674 at St. Therese Hospital.

Former Neighbor

Do you remember Chuck and Helen Jordan who used to live at 2129 E. Woodlane Dr.? I received a letter from this week saying they have bought a home at 821 2nd Street in Gages Lake. They had been living in Waukegan since they sold their home here several years ago. They have added to their family since they left here. Chuck, Jr. is now 15 years old, William 13, Linda 12, Helen 8, Frank 6, Tammy 5, Kimberly 2, Kevin 1½ and Nov. 29 their son Kirk Alan was born. Chuck Jr. was in an auto accident a few weeks ago and had to have 84 stitches across his forehead. Fortunately, he's back at school, now. Helen sends all her friends here a 'Merry Christmas'.

Seasons Greetings

Since I probably won't be seeing very many of you, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas and hope you have a healthy, prosperous New Year.

THANK YOU NOTE

Mr. and Mrs. Pete (Kitty) Levas 1812 E. Hazelwood would like to take this means to thank the Lindenhurst Women's Club, the V.F.W. Auxiliary, Franklin Drugs, Penny's Accent Shop, Lake Villa Variety Store, Lake Villa School and the employees of SCM in Libertyville (where Mrs. Levas works) for the gifts they gave to the Levas family this Christmas. They received so many cans of food and other staples. What seemed to please her most was that her children, Ernie 20, Christine (Tina) 18, Pete, Jr. 16, Anna Marie 14, Rose-Marie 11, and Georgiam 9 all received gifts that made a wonderful Christmas for them. Ernie is in the army and was home on leave for the holidays.

Misfortune struck the Levas family last May when Pete suffered a stroke. He may be able to come home in a couple of months. He is confined to a wheelchair. We wish him a speedy, complete recovery.

Donna Yopp, David Coffill Speak Vows

Miss Donna Lee Yopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Yopp of Grass Lake Road, Antioch, became the bride of David Everett Coffill, son of Mrs. Lois Coffill of Rowley, Mass., in a service performed at 4 p.m. Monday, Dec. 22, at Millburn Congregational Church, Millburn.

The bride chose a white crocheted lace dress with a seed pearl headress which her mother wore when she was married. She carried white roses.

Miss Karen Yopp, the bride's sister was Matron of Honor and the groom's brother, Norman, was best man.

Mrs. Yopp wore red taffeta overlaid with chiffon and Mrs. Coffill, the mother of the groom, chose an aqua lace gown. Both had matching corsages of white carnations and roses.

Special music was supplied by Nancy Swenson at the organ.

A reception for the immediate families followed at the Antioch Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffill will be living in Rhode Island where he is stationed with the Navy.

THE LAW SERVES YOU

by Illinois State Bar Association

Someone owes you a little money and has refused to pay up? Or you would like to collect for some damage done to your property but the person responsible hasn't come through?

Then you will be interested in knowing about the Small Claims Court, the lay's way of handling relatively small claims at a minimum of time and expense to the parties involved.

Small Claims Court is operated by the Circuit Court under rules of the Illinois Supreme Court. It will hear suits for goods or services, personal injury or property damage and for various other claims based on tort or contract provides the amount at stake is not more than $1,000, exclusive of costs and interest.

Also, county officials use the Court for suits to collect unpaid personal property taxes within the $1,000 limit.

Until recently the Court could handle only cases involving $500 or less. However, the Supreme Court, in keeping with the general trend of the economy, increased the limit to $1,000 effective July 1, 1969. The previous increase was from $200 to $500, as of January 1, 1967.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, a person may file a claim with the Court for a small fee, he won't need an attorney unless he wants one, and his case will be decided by a judge at an informal hearing—unless either the plaintiff or the defendant asks for a jury. If requested, a jury of six is provided at a cost of $12.50 or, if specified, a jury of 12 at a cost of $25.

Generally, the ISBA says, procedures followed in the Small Claims Court are as follows:

A short and simple complaint is filed with the court using a form provided by the Clerk. The complaint states the nature and extent of the claim, the name, address and telephone number of the plaintiff and the defendant's name and residence or business address. The cost of filing the complaint may be as little as $10 or less. The summons may be served by certified mail to an address of the defendant within the county for a fee of $1.50 or it may be served by a sheriff.

The date and time of the hearing is stated in the summons. The defendant is not required to file a formal answer to the complaint with the Court, unless ordered to do so by the Court. Also, depositions and other discovery methods for the collection of evidence, often employed in other cases, are not permitted except as authorized by the Court.

During the hearing, strict rules for the admission of evidence may be dispensed with and, after a statement of the claim, the defendant proceeds to prove any defense he may have. Unless a jury has been requested, the judge will render his verdict.

If the Court rules in favor of the plaintiff, a judgment, including court costs, is entered against the defendant, who may be allowed to pay in installments. Costs would include the jury fee if a jury was requested.

Only the people of the United States, by patience, understanding and support of control and common sense in federal spending policies can assure that a few years from now the dollar will still be worth somewhat more than the paper it is printed on.

The United States was created for the sole purpose of making human rights based on individual freedom, opportunity and dignity a living reality. Our success in this endeavor has always been based on the rule of law. No one should forget this fact!

Choral Group Entertains Subdivision

The "Choral Group" of Little Silver Lake Improvement Association toured the subdivision Tuesday evening Dec. 23rd, spreading Christmas joy by singing hymns and carols.

The residents were well pleased and generous with their "goodies."

The artistically decorated homes and the freshly fallen snow gave the entire area a beautiful setting.

Milk Price Continues To Go Up

A blend price of at least $5.82 per hundredweight will be paid dairy farmers for Grade A milk delivered during November to plants within Zone 1 of the Chicago regional federal milk market order. The $5.32 is 4 cents higher than the October blend price, and 20 cents over the blend price in November a year ago.

This was announced by the Pure Milk Association division of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., Chicago market agent for Central Milk Producers Cooperative, an organization of 18 Wisconsin and Illinois dairy farmer-cooperatives which supplies most of the milk for Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison and northeastern Wisconsin.

Zone 1, the area in which the $5.32 price applies, includes the Illinois and Wisconsin territory within 85 miles of Chicago, plus Milwaukee county, Wis., and Winnebago county, Ill.

The $5.32 applies to milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content and is a blend of the November order prices of $5.78 per hundredweight for Class I (bottling) milk and $4.62 per hundredweight for Class II milk.

As announced earlier, the superpool Class I prices for bottling milk beginning December 1 were increased to $6.03 per hundredweight in Zone 1 and $6.10 in Chicago proper. Blend prices to producers will reflect the increases in January, when payment is made for December milk deliveries.

November Class I (bottling) milk utilization was 57 per cent of the total milk in the Chicago regional market pool compared with 59 percent in October.

Total milk in the pool in November was 526,630,002 pounds compared with 542,829,224 in October. November daily milk production was nearly 50,000 pounds above the October daily average.

The producer butterfat differential on November milk under the Chicago regional order is 8.2 cents per hundredweight for each one-tenth of 1 percent above or below 3.5 percent.

The market order blend price paid Chicago regional market producers is reduced two cents per hundredweight for each 15 miles beyond Zone 1.

Whether you are driving or walking, a railroad crossing can prove extremely dangerous. The Chicago Motor Club-AAA warns against hurrying across railroad tracks immediately after a train has passed. Remember, a second train may be coming from the other direction.

If a veteran is unable to provide the number that will identify his G.I. insurance policy, he is advised to include his file number ("C" number) or his service number and branch of service (as well as his full name) in correspondence with the VA.

Since World War II, college fraternities have been welcomed at 186 new colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

Consumer Buying To Be Queried

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representatives of the Bureau of the Census in this area during January, according to Theodore F. Olson, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago.

The questions are asked four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to collect information as a guide to Federal agencies and other groups in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns. A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major appliance during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs during the last three months and any planned for the future.

In the most recent survey in the series, taken in October, families in the U.S. indicated a gain in expected expenditures for furniture and appliances and reported no important change in car buying expectations. House buying expectations remained at a low level.

All answers are kept confidential by law, and information obtained will be published only as statistical totals.

Petty To Drive Plymouth

Richard Petty, NASCAR's all-time race and money winner, will drive a Plymouth SuperBird during the 1970 NASCAR Grand National season.

Petty Enterprises, of Randleman, N.C., will field a two-car team. Petty will drive the first car and the second driver will be named at a later date.

"Our first task is to get one car set up as soon as possible for the Riverside race," Petty said. "Once we get that done we can get the second car going."

"We think that the new Plymouth SuperBird will be a real competitive car and should give us an edge in equipment. We're ready to go racing."

Petty said he will make his first appearance in the SuperBird at the Motor Trend 500 in Riverside, Calif., Jan. 18th. He won the road race there last year.

"Plymouth and Petty were the dominant factors in NASCAR racing throughout a good part of the 1960s," Glenn E. White, Chrysler-Plymouth Division general manager, said. "We are delighted that Richard will be in a Plymouth this coming season. We are confident that we will improve upon our already outstanding record when the Plymouth-Petty team gets back into action."

Richard, 32, his mechanic brother, Maurice, and his father, ex-racing great, Lee Petty, have dominated stock car racing during the 1960s. Petty has won 101 races, 92 of them in Plymouths. He was twice the Grand National Champion — in 1964 and 1967 — both times while driving a Plymouth.

Richard began his driving career in 1958 at Columbia, S.C., in the old Convertible Circuit. His first full season was 1959 when he won Rookie of the Year honors. He scored his first racing victory at that same Columbia track in 1959.

In 1964, with the advent of the hemi engines, Plymouth and Petty catapulted to the top of the NASCAR heap by scoring a decisive victory in the Daytona 500. Petty won his first championship that year and led all money winners with winnings of $98,810.00.

In 1965, Petty sat out most of the season when a change in NASCAR rules made the hemi engine ineligible. He returned in full force in 1966 and ushered in an era of dominance that has never been equaled. He won the Daytona 500 that year along with two other super speedway victories, Atlanta and Darlington.

In 1967, Petty won 27 races which eclipsed the old record of 18 wins in a single season.

Family Day New At Eagle River

EAGLE RIVER, Wis. — The sponsors of the World Championship Snowmobile Derby at Eagle River, Jan. 21-25, believe they have a "first" in the Manufacturers' and Family Day events scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 24.

Race chairman Red Dobbe of the sponsoring Eagle River Lions Club, has announced that spectators in the area for the weekend will be permitted to travel over the world's title course on snowmobiles. This is the five mile partially wooded speed-obstacle course. Snowmobiling will not be allowed on the one-third mile oval course, as it will be in the process of being re-packed for the final day of racing, Jan. 25, when the world feature championship race is held.

Dobbe added that a complete fun day of snowmobiling is being planned beginning at noon. Food, beverage, and movies will be available, as well as snowmobiling, leading up to that evening's torch-lit parade beginning at 6

Lutheran Tourney Is Now On

The Lutheran Athletic Association of Greater Chicago will host their annual holiday basketball tournament for Lutheran churches during the Christmas-New Year's season for five days beginning this Friday, Dec. 26. The eighth annual event, re-named the Chicago-Lake Invitational Holiday Basketball Classic, will present a new format which will permit Lutheran church teams not currently participating in the regular-season LAA basketball program to enter the competition.

The Lutheran Athletic Association of Greater Chicago, which was organized on Nov. 1, 1962 as a department of the Lutheran Council of Greater Chicago, sponsors competitive athletics for the sports teams of the Lutheran churches in the Chicago-Lake area which are affiliated with the American Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Church in America, and the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

The holiday basketball event will be conducted from Dec. 26 through Dec. 30 in two divisions: Juniors (ages 13-17) and Seniors (ages 18 and up). Fifteen senior teams and six junior teams have accepted invitations for the meet which will be held at Waltham Lutheran High School, 900 Chicago Ave., Melrose Park, and St. Peter Lutheran Church, 111 W. Olive, Arlington Heights, through the semi-finals on Sunday, Dec. 28. Championship games will be played on Dec. 29 and 30 in conjunction with the 4th annual Lutheran Benefit Holiday College Basketball Tournament at Prospect High School, 801 W. Kensington, Mt. Prospect.

Further information is available from the LAA offices at 343 S. Dearborn, Chicago, telephone 939-3095.

St. Peter's Takes 2nd In Tourney

Eight schools in the area participated in the 4th annual Diamond Lake Invitational Tournament held on Dec. 26 and 27 in Mundelein.

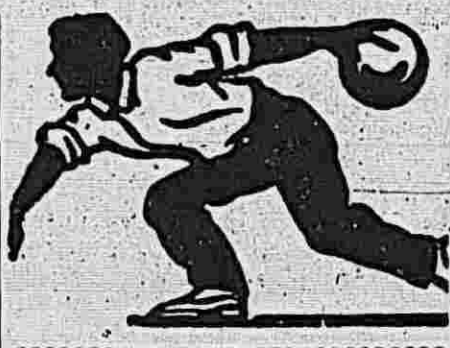

St. Peter's won the first game against St. Joseph of Round Lake on Friday by a score of 54-21. Then on Saturday morning they were pitted against St. Mary's of Prairie View. St. Peter's came out on top 71-22.

The championship game pitted St. Peter's against Diamond Lake. It was an evenly matched game, and the lead changed hands many times. Diamond Lake came out the victors by a score of 34-32. But, St. Peter's came home with a beautiful 2nd place trophy for their efforts.

p.m. through downtown Eagle River. He said, "Many of our spectators have never been on a snowmobile, and Manufacturers' and Family Day will be their opportunity to do so. Manufacturers are cooperating with exhibits and arrangements for demonstration rides."

Other dates on the Eagle River schedule include qualification tests for the world's final, Jan. 21-22; modified and stock competition, oval and speed-obstacle, Jan. 23 and 25; drag races at 9 a.m., the Family and Manufacturers' Day beginning at noon, the 6 p.m. parade, a 7 p.m. hockey game matching Eagle River and Mosinee, and a 9 p.m. snowmobile ball, all on Saturday, Jan. 24; plus the 3 p.m. world's championship race, Sunday, Jan. 25.

Entry blanks and rules, regulations, and general information are available by writing George Ellis, Eagle River, Wis. 54521. The Eagle River world's test follows the Rhinelander Hodag Marathon, and a similar week of snowmobile activity, Jan. 14-18, at nearby Rhinelander.

A total of 724 uranium fuel assemblies holding 49 fuel rods apiece will be inserted into the Dresden 2 core over the next two weeks. The fully loaded reactor's 150 tons of nuclear fuel will produce as much electricity as 10 million tons of coal. (This amount of coal would fill more than 1,400 one-mile-long freight trains.)

Dresden 2 is the first of two 800-megawatt additions scheduled for 1970 operation at Edison's Dresden nuclear power station near Morris, Ill.

The initial 200,000—kilowatt Dresden unit has been producing power since 1960.

Edison also has under construction two 800-megawatt nuclear units at Quad-Cities station, a new plant near Cordova, Ill., and

Tighter Control Of Unethical Doctors Urged In State-Wide Physician Survey

Illinois doctors want tighter controls over unethical and incompetent practitioners, major changes in health legislation, and improved medical services for deprived areas.

Those are the findings revealed in a recent survey of Illinois physicians, released today by the Illinois State Medical Society.

More than 3,500 doctors—representing over a third of all practicing physicians in the state—answered the survey, which covered 15 major issues.

"The purpose of the survey is to keep Illinois medical leadership in tune with the progressive viewpoints of our members," according to Dr. Frank J. Jirka, River Forest, chairman of the ISMS Board of Trustees.

Dr. Jirka noted that as a result of a similar survey last year, ISMS has endorsed a liberalized state abortion law, has opened its membership to osteopaths, and has organized a task force with a $80,000 budget to deal with problems of physician shortage and health care in deprived areas.

In this year's survey, the physicians acknowledged the serious problems caused by unethical and incompetent doctors and called for more stringent policing of "bad apples" in the medical profession.

More than three quarters of the doctors answering the survey favored the establishment of a state disciplinary board to investigate physicians suspected of serious misconduct. Such a board would have the power to recommend suspension or revocation of physician's licensing.

More than 80 per cent of the survey respondents said the ISMS or county medical societies should require peer review—review by other doctors—of a physician when there is evidence of incompetence due to age, sickness or other causes.

If a doctor is found incapable of practicing medicine, the survey respondents said ISMS or the local medical society should recommend to the state Department of Registration and Education that his license be restricted or withdrawn.

At present, the state medical society may censure an unethical doctor by cancelling his membership in the society, but the doctor can continue to practice as long as he holds a state license.

Several changes in current health and medical laws were recommended by the Illinois physicians.

Reaffirming their position of last year, the doctors endorsed liberalization of the state's abortion law, and directed the state medical society to conduct an educational campaign to achieve this goal. Some 77 per cent of the 3,500 respondents supported this proposal.

Three-quarters of the doctors answering the survey said the state medical society should seek state legislation to provide medical care for arrested chronic alcoholics, rather than just holding them in jail until they have "dried out."

The doctors lent their support to the state law that allows communities or counties to establish local mental health services through a tax levy approved by voter referendum.

More than 2,000 doctors said they would be willing to work part-time without reimbursement in a community health center if one were established in a medically deprived area nearby.

More than 2,000 doctors said they would work part-time on a salaried basis.

As a means of easing the physician shortage that exists in much of the state, many physicians favored the use of "doctor's assistants" in medical offices.

More than 1,150 doctors said they would hire a trained and licensed doctor's assistant to work in their offices, performing such tasks as preliminary screening of patients, well-baby examinations, and family planning.

Although there is no established class of medical personnel called "doctor's assistants," a number of programs are being formed to train persons in this field. One of these programs—announced by President Nixon this summer—will draw trainees from the 30,000 medical corpsmen who are discharged from military service each year.

Results of the survey were presented to the ISMS Board of Trustees, which referred the results of each question to ISMS committees. After studying the results, the committees will recommend appropriate actions to either the ISMS Board or its House of Delegates.

At a public hearing in Lake Bluff Dec. 22, it was generally agreed that no action would be taken on a controversial highway proposal in the village until completion of another engineering study. Estimates are that the study will take six months.

Much of the controversy stems from proposed utilization of the abandoned North Shore railroad right-of-way for a two-lane, divided collector route.

Recommendations of the Lake County Highway Department regarding the former railroad property, and Route 41, met opposition until a village-backed survey by an outside consulting service came in with an identical suggestion early last spring. At that time the village board accepted the report and agreed to go along with the proposal.

Following village elections in the spring, and a change of administration, the new board rejected the idea and once again brought the subject into public focus. It was to air the entire dispute that the hearing was called on December 22.

Lake County Superintendent of Highways M. E. Amstutz says the state and federal governments could go ahead as they wish, but it has always been a policy to try and obtain concurrence with villages whenever there is dispute. Amstutz said the new engineering study will probably cause a postponement of up to two years on the Lake Bluff portion of the collector-system.

As the result of prior objections on the part of the village and at least one major industry on the north shore, the Illinois Division of Highways suggested a complete review of the Route 41 relocation and improvement. The review, the Division said, should include the so-called Waukegan-North Chicago Industrial Highway, and Route 176 from Lake Bluff to the tollway.

Good visibility is essential to safe driving. Never drive even a short distance if the windshield and windows of your car are not free of insects, road film or other accumulations. Remember, you have to see danger in order to avoid it.

Bell System Assists In Apollo 12 Flight

The Bell system, a major supplier of communications support facilities to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, assisted in the overall coordination of the vast network that played a key role in the Apollo 12 mission.

The Bell System's part in the effort that culminated in the successful lunar landing of Apollo 11 began nearly 10 years ago, three years before Project Mercury sent Marine Col. John Glenn into three orbits around the earth.

In 1959, NASA asked Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the Bell System, to head an industry team that built a worldwide communications network of 14 stations.

This network followed an astronaut's course and communicated with him, bringing his voice back to Mission Control in Florida. Bell Telephone Laboratories supervised the engineering of the network.

During the Gemini missions in the mid-60's, when pairs of astronauts set endurance records, walked in space, and rendezvoused with other spacecraft, NASA enlarged and modified the worldwide communications network. Bell System engineers has set up. At the same time, the agency called on various companies of the Bell System to make key additions to the Bell network that would facilitate the drive to land men on the moon.

Western Electric equipped new terminal buildings at Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center and Kennedy Space Center's Merritt Island Moonport while both locations were still under construction.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. took over maintenance of the Houston equipment, while the Southern Bell Telephone Co. assumes control at Kennedy.

Western Electric's work at Goddard Space Flight Center in Maryland established terminal facilities directly beneath the NASA Space Communications Center. Operation of the Goddard terminal equipment was taken over by AT&T's Long Lines Department, the long distance and overseas unit of the Bell System, and by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

Following that, Western Electric produced and installed a master switchboard for the Goddard Communications Center that is now the heart of NASA's worldwide voice communications network.

While those Bell System jobs were under way, Long Lines pushed construction of a microwave radio route across the Gulf Coast to connect the Kennedy Space Center and Houston Control.

Following are details on the systems developed for NASA by the Bell System:

Apollo Launch Data System (ALDS)—A microwave and cable complex of data, television, telephone and teletypewriter circuits that extends the mission control capabilities of Cape Kennedy to the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston. It became operational with the Gemini 4 mission on June 3, 1965.

Apollo flight functions handled over ALDS include checking out the Apollo spacecraft, controlling the launching and directing the booster engine as it lifts the astronauts into orbit.

Critical information needed for Apollo mission control is funneled from the Cape into seven Houston computers over data channels that can handle tens of thousands of bits of information each second. A bit is the simplest element of computer language.

Wide-band data channels and high-speed data channels handle the bulk of vital mission control data.

Computers at Houston use the data to make constant flight contingency recommendations, predict flight paths, determine time to start re-entry and forecast the Apollo capsule's impact point.

Mission data is converted into visual presentations by Houston's Display Control System. NASA's flight directors see the information on large screens within half a second after it's received.

The Apollo Launch Data System also provides closed-circuit television channels for face-to-face contact between flight controllers at Houston and launch-control teams at the Kennedy Space Center. In addition, the system includes voice circuits and 100-watt-per-minute teletypewriter channels.

Philco-Ford Corp. and International Business Machines Corp. also worked on the design and engineering of this system.

Launch Information Exchange Facility (LIEF)—The Bell System added this facility in 1965 to check-out Saturn booster-vehicles. LIEF connects Cape Kennedy by cable and microwave with the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Alabama, the assembly point of the Saturn-Booster rocket.

LIEF includes voice, video, teletypewriter and data channels that enable technicians at Huntsville to remain close to their facilities, yet virtually be on the scene of the launch. Minutes are saved in correcting malfunctions—minutes, which, in an emergency, could mean the difference between success and failure.

Twelve hours before the countdown, as the towering rocket rests on its launching pad in Florida, LIEF goes into action. Four times each second, electronic impulses flick down a checklist of more than a thousand items—temperature, pressure, valve positions, fuel flow. The data is fed into Huntsville computers for interpretation, and the information is immediately passed on to the Manned Space Center in Houston.

SCAMA II—The voice network is controlled from Goddard through the SCAMA II System. SCAMA stands for Station Conferencing and Monitoring Arrangement. SCAMA II can handle calls between operators located at as many as 220 monitoring and control stations around the world. SCAMA II "homes in" on three consoles at Goddard. The console provides push-button voice contact between all stations and allows attendants to call up as many stations as needed for mission conferences. SCAMA II is probably the most far-reaching private line network of its kind. It also handles voice, data and facsimile signals transmitting from Comsat satellites and all deep space probes.

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois today noted that expenditures for the 1968 fiscal year by all governmental units (Federal, State and local) amounted to $1414 for every man, woman and child living in the United States.

Total governmental spending throughout the U.S. amounted to approximately $283 billion.

This amount includes special purpose expenditures, such as Social Security Unemployment Compensation, government retirement, etc.

Government spending has increased sharply over the years, but with such increases has shifted the priorities for such expenditures.

In 1902 defense received 10.5% of governmental spending, but today it takes over 37%.
